Explorers Attend Area Road-Day-O

Several green-clad Explorer Boy Scouts of Torrance were among 700 members of the Los Angeles Area Council who met yesterday at Hollywood Park from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. for the annual Road-Day-O, annual automotive event for area Explorers.

The Torrance Explorers learned about automobiles, motors and engines, and how smog-producing cars can be detected. They saw safety films and demonstrators by skilled truckers of how to weave a heavy semi around an obstacle course.

They drove brand-new Chevrolets around a well-marked course, and in other special automobiles learned how long it takes to halt a car after hearing a pistol shot.

FORTY Motor Vehicle Department inspectors, donating their day-off time, gave written, visual and actual driving tests to the uniformed Explorers.

Participating companies included General Petroleum American Can Co., Ethyl Corp. California Truckers' Assn., Yellow Cab, Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Co.

Also, the California Highway Patrol, Inglewood Fire Dept. and Police Dept., Air Pollution Control District, Horseless Carriage Club, and the Automobile Club of Southern California.

EASEMENT GRANTED

An easement to allow a sewer connection for Seaside School was obtained by the Torrance Board of Education Tuesday from Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rosenthal. The school is the last in the district which still uses a septic tank. The tank has been giving trouble recently.
